i have been successfully applying them for over twenty years now it is believed to affect one in ten of the population, however some studies suggest that the proportion is much higher